I Mrs Surekha Katkar Librarians take this opportunity to welcome all of you for this session

We have gathered here to face the challenges for Libraries in the twenty First century which is the need of an hour.

Our topic for today's session is PLAGIARISM what it is and how to avoid it.

Purpose of taking this session is to make the students aware about plagiarism.

Plagiarism means copying or stealing. Someone's ideas, inventions.

There are all sorts of ways in which students attempt to steal. Some common are reasons are

- lack of knowledge about the subject,
- pure laziness
- Do not understand it well enough to put it into their own words,
- students wait until the last minute to write a paper,
- Unable to write a paper before the deadline, and too late to ask anyone for help.

Please take this session seriously.

Without wasting much time let me introduce the Resource Persons for today's session Mrs. Akshata Gawas.

- She is working in this institution as a Librarian Grade I for the last 4 years
- In this four years she has taken for our college students and teachers - one Session ,one Webinar, One Quiz And has created two small videos
